

Person-Centered Planning

Birch Family Services is proud to invite you to attend free sessions in November for families to learn about Person-Centered Planning. Our facilitator, Nadine Daley has a wide breath of experience working with people with Developmental Disabilities. She currently holds the position of Director of Innovative Planning and Advocacy Services and Chief Diversity Inclusion and Belonging Officer at CFS.

Person-Centered Planning (PCP) is a collaborative process that helps people plan their lives, identify their goals, and find their voice. PCP is based on the idea that everyone has the right to live, love, work, learn, play, and pursue their dreams.
